

Medicare: at-a-Glance*

Per the Medicare guidelines on intermittent urinary catheterization, any patient who utilizes intermittent catheters can receive one sterile urological catheter and one packet of lubricant for each catheterization.

- Physician prescriptions should reflect the actual number of times a patient catheterizes per day.
- Medicare will cover up to a maximum of 200 intermittent catheters per month with the following codes:
  - A4351: Intermittent urinary catheter with straight tip, with or without coating
  - A4352: Intermittent urinary catheter with Coudé/Tiemann tip, with or without coating

When a coudé tip catheter (A4352) is used, there must be documentation in your medical record of the medical necessity for that catheter rather than a straight tip catheter.
